

The ISDN Switch Off -

How Will It Affect Your Business?

Now is the ideal time to switch to the future of business communications - SIP Trunking and Cloud Technology - and begin taking advantage of the numerous business benefits.

BT has announced the phasing out of the ISDN and PSTN networks with all UK businesses to migrate to IP networks.

In four years time you'll no longer be able to purchase a system that uses PSTN / ISDN technology, so if you were thinking of upgrading your telephone system soon then an IP solution will be the future proof solution your business needs.

SIP Trunking is already the recognised alternative, allowing you to run voice and data over a secure internet connection rather than multiple fixed lines. By using virtual rather than physical phone lines, SIP allows for better flexibility, scalability and a large reduction in costs.

What can SIP Trunking do for your business?

- Highly scalable allowing your business to easily grow; adding new lines is easy and these can be scaled up or down over time to suit your needs.
- Free calls and no need for expensive ISDN / PSTN line rental.
- Provides the flexibility for remote and mobile working practices, such as the ability to receive calls to your office phone and your mobile at the same time without incurring any additional costs, meaning you can provide your customers with one number no matter where you may be.
- Simple and effective integration with your business email account, CRM system and more.
- Advanced resilience and disaster recovery in the case of severe weather or network failure.
